STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Wheeling, January 1st, 1865.

His Excellency,

ARTHUR I. BOREMAN,

Governor of West Virginia,

SIR:—Pursuant to the laws of this State, I have the honor to transmit herewith my annual report for the year ending December 31st, 1864.

As complete records of the organizations mustered into the United States service from this State have never been furnished this office by those whose duty it was, which may be attributed to many reasons, some of which were mentioned in my former report, I have endeavored to supply these deficiencies by returns from the organizations in the field, which, although they may not be considered as entirely satisfactory, are the best that I have been able to obtain, and by comparing them with the records I already have, I find them generally to be correct. There may be some inaccuracies resulting from this fact, that in many instances the records of companies have been lost, but these will not materially affect the history of any soldier in the service.

This report is intended to give as nearly a correct record of West Virginia organizations in the service of the United States, and other matters connected with the military history of the State, as it has been possible for me to make under the many embarrassing circumstances with which it has been attended, and is presented herewith in the appendix in the following order, viz:

Appendix "A" is a Roster of the field, staff and company officers of the several organizations in the United States service from this State, showing the changes which have taken place since my last report.

Appendix "B," embraces a record of every Regiment, Battery, and Independent Company, with the name of every officer and soldier who has ever been in the service of the United States in them, since the commencement of the war, (except the 1st Regiment three months volunteers, and four or five companies of different regiments,) so far as it has been possible for me to obtain the same from any source whatever. This portion of my report has been compiled from the muster-out rolls of the various organizations whose terms of service have expired, and from returns received from organizations yet in the field. As the regulations of the war department do not require mustering officers to furnish Adjutant Generals of States with copies of the muster-out rolls of troops, as in the case of muster-in, I am indebted to Lieut. Henry C. Peck, U. S. mustering and disbursing officer at this post, and to his gentlemanly clerks for their kindness in allowing me the use of the retain rolls of that office, and for the facilities afforded me in procuring the necessary data therefrom. The records of the different organizations compiled from these muster-out rolls, may be regarded as entirely correct, showing who were mustered out of service, and who are yet remaining; also, the date and place of all deaths, discharges, desertions, &c. The record of those yet remaining in service, from which no men have been mustered out, is compiled from the returns received from such organizations; in which case I prepared blanks in the form desired, and forwarded to each regimental and company commander, with the necessary instructions for making out the same, affording them all the facilities I could to assist them. To the officers making these returns, I am much indebted, for the promptness with which they complied with my request; to the commanding officers of regiments, particularly, for the interest they have manifested in having these returns as correct as possible. I have added to many of the organizations (and shall add to all, if I can procure them in time,) historical memoranda of the organization and operations of such, and a list of the principal engagements in which they have participated. It is not pretended, at all, that these memoranda will give more than a faint idea of what such organizations have performed, and are not as complete as desired, but our troops have been so constantly in motion since the opening of the campaign in this department early in the spring, that it has been only within the last month or two, that I have been able to obtain much of the material from which this report is compiled, thus giving me but little time to work upon it: indeed, the time has been so short since the officers in the field have had an opportunity to furnish me the returns I desired, that much which would have been interesting and important, has been left out for want of time to prepare it. Injustice may thus be done to our brave and gallant troops, but to attempt (because it would only be an attempt) to do them justice in writing a history of each organization—of the many engagements in which they have participated, in which they have gained so much honor for themselves, and reflected so much credit upon their noble State: to notice the many interesting incidents, the privations and sufferings, and the many individual acts of gallantry and heroism, would require volumes, more than could be allotted to this report.

I will endeavor to procure the returns from those companies from which none have yet been received, and also the information from which the regimental histories of the different regiments which have not reported, can be prepared in time to add them to this report before it is published, (if published at all.)

Appendix "C" is a Roster of the several Independent companies of Scouts in the State, giving the counties for which organized, and date of organization. These companies are sworn into the service of the State for the term of one year, are paid and provided with arms, equipments, &c., by the State; and number from twenty-five to fifty, and in two or three of the counties as many as seventy-five men each, thus, making over one thousand men in the State service in the border counties, without which there could have been no enforcement of the civil laws of the State, nor collection of revenues for the United States, and the loyal people could not have remained at home. Although these companies are maintained at considerable expense to the State, yet I do not think their services could be very well dispensed with; nor do I think the force should be diminished. During the past year they have participated in many engagements with the guerrillas, and have succeeded very well in the protection of those counties for which they are organized, and are quite able to do so, except against raids by large bodies of the enemy. This service is very arduous and dangerous, and such only as can be successfully accomplished by men who have lived in the country, who are thoroughly acquainted with it and the inhabitants. They are instructed to co-operate, as far as practicable, with the United States forces, and have proven very efficient as scouts and guides for our armies, and generally much more effective for the purpose for which they are intended, than our soldiers in the United States service would be. During the past year we have received many favorable notices of the operations of these companies from the military commanders in different portions of the State.

Appendix "D" shows a report of the enrollment of this State by counties, which has been kindly furnished me from the office of the Acting Assistant Provost Marshal General of the State.

Appendix "E" exhibits the account of the State with the United States respecting the number of men required and furnished under the different calls of the President from the commencement of the war to the present time. It will be seen that during the past year under the different calls of the President for troops, amounting to one million of men, this State has been required to furnish her quota, and up to the date of the last call, Dec. 19th, was only deficient eight hundred and seventy-five men. This deficiency arises from the fact that quotas were assigned to counties yet under control of the rebels, to such an extent, at least, that the attendance of drafted men could not be compelled, for which reason the draft in those counties was suspended, and the additional reason perhaps, that to attempt an enforcement of a draft in those counties, would add more recruits to the rebel armies than to ours. Living, as these men are, upon the border, an attempt to enforce a draft would give them a pretext for forming themselves into guerrilla bands, and render those counties much worse than they now are. There have been but thirty-six (36) men drafted and held to service in this State, since the commencement of the war. The patriotism of the people of West Virginia is not surpassed by any in the Union, and none, perhaps, can show a better record in this respect. Every effort has been made to fill each call for troops by voluntary enlistments; and for this purpose large bounties have been paid by nearly every county in the State. By comparing this statement with the enrollment of the State, it is only a matter of surprise, considering the many disadvantages under which it has labored, that so many men have been furnished. At the commencement of the war, whole regiments were organized and mustered into the United States service, from portions of the State at the same time occupied by rebel troops, and recruiting for both armies going on in the same county; our border counties continually overrun by guerrillas, murders and thefts being daily occurrences, —and, indeed, in some of our more interior counties, this is true,— insomuch that it would seem, that it would require every loyal man to remain at his home for the protection of his family. Many more of our soldiers in the field would have re-enlisted during the past year, had it not been for the wail that come to them from their families, of the indignities which they were receiving from these bands of guerrillas, horse thieves and murderers

Under the call of the President for 300,000 men, dated December 19th, 1864, the quota of the State is 3,119; in this, however, are included the counties in which the draft had been suspended under former calls, and the deficiencies in those counties are added to the quota under the present call: at the date of the call of July 18th, 1864, for 500,000, one, two or three years men, the State had an excess of 3,127 three years men, but which under that call were counted as only man for man, the years of service, not having been taken into consideration. Under the present call the years of service are calculated; the manner in which it is done will be better understood by the following letter from the Provost Marshal General of the United States to Captain Edward P. Hudson, Acting Assistant Provost Marshal General of this State, announcing the quota of the State, as follows :—

"WAR DEPARTMENT,
PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., Dec. 23, 1864.

Capt. W. P. HUDSON,
Ac't Ass't Pro. Mar. Gen'l,
WHEELING, W. Va.

The quota of the State of West Virginia, under the call of the President for three hundred thousand men, dated December 19th, 1864, is (3,119) three thousand one hundred and nineteen.

This is the number required under the call after taking into account the credits to which the State is entitled, by estimating the number of years of service furnished by one, two and three years men.

The quota of the 1st District is..... 4
" " " " 2d District is.....2862
" " " " 3d District is..... 253=3,119

The whole number of years of service furnished by each District, and which is to be considered in apportioning the quotas of the sub-districts, is :

1st District, 6639, being an excess of 3893 years of service over the number of men furnished.

2d District, —— being an excess of —— years of service over the number of men furnished.

3d District, 2603, being an excess of 1389 years of service over the number of men furnished.

* * * * * * *

In order to equalize this credit, it will be added to the quota of the District in gross, and distributed among the sub-districts, according to the number enrolled in each. This will give the quota of the sub-districts, increased by the excess in proportion to the number enrolled; but as the number of one, two and three year's men respectively, have been furnished without regard to the number enrolled, the Provost Marshal will subtract from this gross quota, the actual amount of excess of years of service which the sub-district has furnished.

The enclosed formula is furnished as a rule for assigning quotas to sub-districts.

Suppose the quota, under the present call, in a given district containing (8) sub-districts, is 1 000 men and that the quota in that district under the call of July 18, 1864, was 1,600, which was filled as follows :

SUB-DISTRICTS.	Number of men furnished.	Period of service.			Total number of years of service.	Excess of number of years of service over No. of men.
		1 year.	2 years.	3 years.
1st Sub-district,	200	140	20	40	300	100
2d " "	240	180	10	50	350	110
3d " "	160	80	12	48	308	148
4th " "	260	120	30	110	510	250
5th " "	180	100	10	70	330	150
6th " "	240	120	20	100	460	220
7th " "	140	60	10	70	290	150
8th " "	180	132	24	24	252	72
Total,	1600	932	136	582	2800	1200

It will be seen that the excess of years of service over the number of men furnished in the 1st sub-district is 100; in the 2d 100, &c., &c. Total in district, 1200.

The total in the district under the present call is 1000, to this add the excess 1200, making 2200; then, as the number enrolled in the sub-district to its quota; which quota will be reduced by subtracting from it, its share of the excess.

FORMULA.

SUB-DISTICTS.	No. enrolled in district.	Quota with excess added 2000 x 1200.	No. enrolled in sub-district.	Gross quota.	Excess furnish'd by sub-districts.	Nett quota or required No. under this call.
1st Sub-district,	20000	2200	2400	264	1100	164
2d " "	20000	2200	2800	308	110	198
3d " "	20000	2200	2000	220	148	72
4th " "	20000	2200	3200	352	250	152
5th " "	20000	2200	2200	242	150	92
6th " "	20000	2200	2800	208	220	88
7th " "	20000	2200	2000	220	150	70
8th " "	20000	2200	2600	286	72	214
Total,	20000	2200	2000	2200	1200	1000

The above formula is furnished to Boards of Enrollment, as a rule by which they will apportion the quotas of sub-districts, and determine the amount of credit due them.

JAMES B. FRY,
Provost Marshal General.

Official:

GEORGE E. SCOTT, Capt. 1st V. R. C."

Thus it will be seen that the real number to be furnished by the State under the present call will be small, as the principal part of the quota is chargeable to those counties in which a draft cannot be enforced.

I have prepared no statement of the organization of the militia of this State, from the fact that a full statement cannot, at present, be furnished. Under the new State organization it is necessary to re-number and re-organize the different Regiments, this has only been done in the First Division. In many of the other counties it will be necessary, where there are two or three Regiments in a county to consolidate them, and not being able to tell, under existing state of things in those counties, what the real militia force is, it has been deemed expedient to defer it for a time. If possible, this should be done during the coming year. The militia laws of this State should be compiled and published in pamphlet form, together with forms for reports, certificates, and orders of Regimental courts making allowances, &c., for the use of the militia.

On two or three occasions during the past year it has been necessary to call out the 2d and 3d Brigades of militia, commanded by Gen'ls Core and Bunker, to repel expected raids by the enemy, and the promptness with which these Brigades responded to the orders, and the cheerfulness with which they did duty as soldiers is indeed highly commendable.

By direction of Your Excellency, the flags authorized by the Legislature to be procured and presented to different West Virginia Regiments, have been purchased at an aggregate cost of $387.25. The flags have all been presented, and in return several of the Regiments have returned to the State their old battle flags. which exhibit the part such Regiments have taken in the many hotly contested battles in which they have been engaged, and constitute an interesting part of the record of their gallantry and devotion to their country's cause. Some provision should be made for the careful preservation of these, as around them cluster many fond remembrances, to the soldier, of the gallant dead who have fallen under and around them, of those who have sacrificed their lives for their protection.

The arduous labors performed during the past year by Col's Jacob Hornbrook and William Alexander, Aids to Your Excellency, should not be passed unnoticed. The services which they have rendered to the soldier and his family cannot be estimated. The promptness, willingness and fidelity with which these officers attend to the wants of our soldiers, visiting them in Hospitals, and in the field, doing every thing possible for their accommodation and comfort is deserving the highest praise. During the past year Col. Hornbrook has made eleven visits to the army, and has carried home for the soldiers $385,000 and with the amount Col. Alexander has thus carried, about $600,000 has been delivered during the year to soldiers families, without its costing the soldiers one cent, and costing the State only the necessary expenses of these officers in traveling. They have also frequently visited our Hospitals and inquired into the wants and condition of our soldiers. Within the last two or three months Col. Alexander has visited nearly all the Hospitals in the United States in which our soldiers were, took a memorandum of their condition, and where they were out of the Department, through the influence of Your Excellency, procured from the Sugeon General, U. S. A., transfers to Hospitals in this Department, where they can be visited by their friends and relatives. This has been very encouraging to the sick and wounded soldiers, and no doubt aided much in their speedy recovery. The self-sacrificing devotion of these officers for the interests of the soldier can never be repaid.

The people of this State have done much through their agents in this city and elsewhere, in alleviating the wants of our sick and wounded soldiers, in the different Hospitals in this Department and in the field; their liberality in this respect is indeed highly commendable. The "Ladies Soldier's Aid Society," too, which has met weekly in the Capitol Buildings during the past year deserve great credit for their untiring efforts in providing for the wants of the soldiers.

I would respectfully beg leave to call the attention of Your Excellency to the salary of the clerk in this office, as being entirely insufficient under the present advanced prices of boarding, &c., the present allowance being only six hundred dollars per annum, for which sum it will be impossible to employ a competent clerk.

The contingent expenses of my office since January 1st, 1864, amount to six hundred and fifteen dollars, the amount appropriated by the Legislature was three hundred dollars.

Another year of the war has passed, and to West Virginia troops the most severe since the commencement. The operations of the army in the Department of West Virginia, and in the Shenandoah Valley, since the opening of the campaign early in the spring, have been of continuous marching and hard fighting. All our troops have been serving in that department and in the Valley of Virginia during the year, (except the 7th Infantry, which has been in the army of the Potomac, engaged in all the hard fought battles there, and Battery "C.") Many of the most severely contested battles, and most glorious victories since the commencement of the war have been fought and won, and in each of them the conspicuous gallantry and bravery of West Virginia troops, has been a subject of special notice, and the part they have taken is fully attested by their depleted ranks.

At the battles of Piedmont, New Market, Cloyd Mountain, Lynchburg, Winchester, Opequan, Cedar Creek, &c., and in the innumerable skirmishes in which they have been engaged, the best blood of the state has been shed. Our offering upon the altar of our country has been as great, perhaps, as that of any State in the Union, in proportion to its numbers. Upon these battle fields have fallen the brave and gallant Colonels Thoburn and Frost, and Lieutenant Colonels Morris and Hall, whose names will ever live as the gallant friends of human liberty.

Two of our Colonels, Duval, of the 9th Infantry, and Powell, of the 2nd Cavalry, have been appointed Brig. Generals of Vols.; and another, Col. T. M. Harris, of the 10th Infantry, breveted Brig. Genl.; these for conspicuous gallantry and abilities as officers. Six others are commanding Brigades, whilst there are hundreds and thousands in the ranks who deserve the highest praise, who have won for themselves a reputation of which they may well be proud, and a reputation for the State which will make her and her soldiery prominent in the history of our national struggle, when it shall have been fully written by the impartial historian. Not so much of their acts have been portrayed to the public in glowing accounts by newspaper correspondents, and not so much is known of the part they have taken, as of troops from other States, because the Press of this State have had no correspondents with our armies.

In conclusion, I hope it may not again be necessary to speak of the gallantry of our troops in hard fought battles during this war, but, that by the blessing of God, our government may be restored by the surrender of its enemies, and that it may stand a monument, not of oppression and terror, but of human liberty, wisdom and peace, upon which other nations may gaze with admiration forever.

I have the honor to be,

Very Respectfully, Your Obedient Servant,

F. P. Peirpoint,

Adjutant General.

MEMORANDA:—The First Regiment West Virginia Infantry Volunteers was organized at Wheeling in May, 1861, from volunteer companies of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall counties, which had been formed in April 1861 to resist aggressions from that portion of Virginia which had seceded from the Union; and under the call of the President for 75,000 men, it was mustered into the service of the United States for the period of three months, under command of Col. B. F. Kelley. On the —— day of May, 1861, it left Camp Carlile, at Wheeling, and proceeded to a bridge near Mannington, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which had been destroyed by the rebels. After remaining there two days it marched to Grafton, Taylor County, Va., where a body of State militia had been collected, under command of the rebel Col. Porterfield. Upon the approach of the Union force, Col. Porterfield retired to Phillippi, Barbour County, where, on the morning of the —— of June, he was attacked and completely routed by Col. Kelley's command. During the action Col. Kelley was seriously wounded in the breast.

During the remainder of their three months service the regiment was separated. A detachment of five (5) companies served with General McClellan in the Rich Mountain campaign—another detachment was with Col. Tyler in the campaign against General Wise, who at that time had attempted an invasion of this portion of the State. The remainder of the regiment was stationed on the B. & O. R. R.

The three months organization was mustered out of service on the 28th day of August, 1861, and the regiment was reorganized under command of Col. Joseph Thoburn, who was Surgeon of the regiment in the three months service.

This organization was perfected on the 14th day of November, 1861. During the period of recruiting and reorganizing the regiment, four (4) companies were sent to Burning Springs, Va., and thence to Romney, Va., where they were joined by the remainder of the regiment on the 9th of November, 1861.

The regiment participated in the action at Blues' Gap, Va., January 7th, 1862, and was with the command of General Lander at the evacuation of Romney, January 10th, and continued under his command until his death at Paw-Paw Tunnel, Va., in February, 1862. It then formed a part of the 3d brigade of General Shields' division, and with it bore an active part in the battle of Winchester, Va., March 23d, 1862; served with Shields' Division during the campaign in the Valley of Virginia in the months of April, May and June, during which time it creditably performed hard and laborious service. It was engaged at the battle of Port Republic, Va., June 8th and 9th, and lost heavily.

In July, 1862, the regiment was assigned to the 4th Brigade of Rickett's Division, of McDowell's Corps, of the Army of Virginia. During the month of August, whilst in this command, it participated in the actions at Cedar Mountain, Va., August 9th, Rappahannock Station, August —th, Thoroughfare Gap, August 28th, and in the second battle of Bull Run, August 29th and 30th, 1862.

In October, 1862, the 1st Virginia was sent to Wheeling to recruit, and on the 24th of November, 1862, was ordered to report to General Kelley, and was sent to North Mountain, Va., where it remained until March, 1863, when it was assigned to the 2d Brigade, 1st Division, 8th Army Corps, at Romney, Va., and remained there until June, 1863, when it joined General Kelley's command in the Maryland campaign of July, 1863. Col. Mulligan's Division, of which the 1st West Virginia formed a part, was sent to Petersburg, W. Va., on the 16th of August, 1863, whence a detachment of five (5) companies of the regiment were sent to Moorefield, W. Va.—This detachment was attacked on the 5th of September by General Imboden's Brigade, which was repulsed with small loss. Before daylight on the morning of the 11th of September, it was again attacked by surprise by a detachment of Imboden's Brigade, under command of McNiel, in which the camp and a large portion of the command was captured. On the 30th of January, 1864, the regiment, with the remainder of the forces at Petersburg, under command of Col. Thoburn, retreated to New Creek, W. Va., before a superior force of the enemy under command of General Early.

On the 25th of February, 1864, the regiment was sent to Wheeling on veteran furlough, and on the 1st of April joined General Sullivan's command at Webster, W. Va., where it was attached to the 2d Brigade, commanded by Col. Thoburn.

During the months of April and May, 1864, it was in General Sigel's campaign in the Shenandoah valley, and participated in the battle of New Market, May 14th and 15th, 1864; continued in the same organization during the campaign of General Hunter, being meritoriously engaged in the battles of Piedmont, June 5th, 1864, and at Lynchburg, June 17th and 18th, and was with General Hunter's army in its retreat from Lynchburg to the Kanawha River.

In July and August it participated in the campaign of General Crook against Early in the Shenandoah valley, and was engaged in the battles of Snicker's Ferry, July 18th, 1864, and at Winchester on the 24th day of July. In the months of August, September and October, it formed part of the Army of West Virginia, in General Sheridan's army, and was actively engaged at Cedar Creek, August 12th, 1864, at Berryville, September 3d, at Charlestown, August ——, and at Halltown, August 26th. At the battles of Opequan, September 19th, Fisher's Hill, September 23d, and of Cedar Creek, October 19th, 1864, the regiment was in the reserve. At the latter place, Col. Thoburn of the 1st W. Va. commanding the 1st Division, Army of West Virginia, was mortally wounded; an accomplished and talented gentleman, a brave and chivalrous soldier, a skillful and efficient officer: possessing those qualities in a high degree which fitted him for an exalted station. In his death West Virginia has suffered an irreparable loss.

On the 29th of October the regiment was sent to Cumberland, Md., whence the non-veterans were sent to Wheeling to be mustered out of service. The remainder of the regiment was then consolidated into a Battalion of four companies, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Jacob Weddle.

By order of the Secretary of War, dated December 10th, 1864, the battalion was consolidated with the 4th W. Va. Infantry, forming the Second Regiment West Virginia Veteran Volunteers, and is now stationed at Cumberland, Md.

The Fourth Regiment West Virginia Volunteer Infantry was organized at Point Pleasant, West Virginia, under the supervision of Col. J. A. J. Lightburn, during the months of June, July, August and September, 1861.

The Regiment removed to Ceredo, Wayne County, on the 5th of December; where it remained in winter quarters till the first of the following May, keeping from one to three companies scouting that portion of the State and the adjoining counties of Kentucky most of the winter. From Ceredo it moved to Charleston, Kanawha County, and soon after two companies were sent to Chapmansville, Logan County, one to Brownstown, Kanawha County, and two to Guyandotte. During the months of May, June and July nothing occurred of greater interest than an occasional "brush" with bushwhackers. On the 6th of August a detachment of fifty men, under Major Hall and Lieut. McMasters, was attacked whilst on a scout on Beech creek, in Logan County, by Major Witcher, with two hundred and seventy-five mounted men whilst at dinner. In the affray Major Hall and two of his men were killed, eight wounded and four captured. The rebels lost three officers (Major Witcher and two others) wounded, one man killed and eight wounded. Lieut. McMasters, with the rest of the party, arrived at camp about the 15th, after much fatigue and hunger, having lived four days on berries alone.

On the 17th Col. Lightburn was placed in command of the "District of Kanawha." On the 16th of September our forces at Fayetteville were attacked and completely surrounded by the enemy, 9000 strong, under Gen. Loring. Companies B, G, and H, reached Fayetteville about 10 P. M., and were permitted by the enemy to enter the town without having a shot fired at them. Another singular circumstance related in connection with this affair, is that when, at mid-night, Col. Sibert, commanding, ordered the three companies, to open a road to march out his command, which they did, the enemy not firing a shot at them, although in force within a hundred yards of the road. The troops immediately in the rear of these three companies, suffered severely. Why they were not attacked has never been explained. In the retreat and three days fighting which followed, the Fourth did its share, fighting on the third day at Charleston from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M., losing in the three days, forty killed, wounded and missing.

December 29, 1862, the Fourth was brigaded with the 30th, 37th and 47th Ohio Regiments of infantry, Gen. Ewing commanding, and immediately moved South to join the army of the Tennessee; arrived at Young's Point, La., on the 21st January, 1863, and was assigned to the 2d Division, 15th Army Corps. During February and March the Regiment assisted in constructing the celebrated canal near Vicksburg; in April participated in the expedition up Steele's and Black Bayous, Miss., and the feint on Haines' Bluff, under Sherman, on the 30th of that month. Thence the Regiment moved to Grand Gulf, via Young's Point, and marched thence one hundred miles in three days, joining the 15th Corps in time to participate in the assault on the rebel works at Vicksburg. The first assault was made on the 19th of May. The Regiment was then 400 strong, present for duty. Within ten minutes after the order was given to charge the enemy's works, one hundred and fifty men of the Fourth were killed and wounded. The colors were torn to rags by bullets, both color sergeants killed, and all the color guard but one killed or wounded. The Fourth also participated in the assault of the 22d, but suffered much less severely. Throughout this memorable siege the regiment was always in the trenches or with the storming parties.

On the 5th of July the Fourth left Vicksburg with the expedition under Sherman against Jackson, Miss.; arriving before that city on the 10th and capturing it on the 17th; returned to Vicksburg the last of the month; embarked for Memphis about the last of Sept.; moved thence to Chattanooga, and on the 27th October participated in an engagement with rebel cavalry under Gens. Forsyth, S. D. Lee and Roddy, in which a skirmish line of the Fourth drove the rebel cavalry a mile over open fields. This was near Tuscumbia, Ala.

On the 21st of November, the Fourth reached the neighborhood of Chattanooga, on the night of the 23d crossed the Tennessee river in pontoon boats; and on the afternoon of the 24th participated with the 15th Corps in driving the rebel right and occupying the eastern extremity of Missionary Ridge; the Fourth doing duty this day, as well as the next, on the skirmish line, and losing about fifteen men. The Regiment moved on the 26th to the relief of Burnside at Knoxville; when within ten miles of the place was ordered back, reaching Larkinsville, Ala., January 7, 1864.

Thus we see that from October 8, 1863, to January 8, 1864, the Fourth was either marching or fighting. It had not five days rest during that time and for four weeks subsisted entirely off the country.

In February, 1864, the Fourth participated in a raid into Alabama, marching about one hundred and seventy-five miles. The distance marched from Memphis to Chattanooga, Knoxville and back to Larkinsville was computed by Gen. M. S. Smith, Division commander, at 975 miles.

In March, the Regiment having re-enlisted, reported to Wheeling and received the veterans' furlough; reported for duty May 1st, and was ordered to the Department of West Virginia; accompanied Hunter's raid on Lynchburg, going the whole round to Kanawha, and thence via Parkersburg, to Martinsburg, making 475 miles, being in the 2d Brigade, 1st Infantry Division.

The Fourth was in the engagement at Snicker's Ford, July 18th, and lost four officers and thirty men killed and wounded. It was also in the engagement near Winchester, July 24th, and lost sixteen men and two officers; also in the battle at Cedar Creek, August 13th, in the skirmish line, and was highly complimented by the Division commander, Col. Thoburn. The regiment was also in the engagement at Berryville, and suffered slightly.

On the 10th of December the regiment was consolidated with the 1st W. Va. Infantry, the two forming the 2d W. Va. Veteran Infantry.

MEMORANDA:—This regiment was organized at Ceredo, Va., during the months of July and August, 1861, and was mustered into the United States service on the 18th day of October, 1861; was engaged in scouting the Kanawha Valley, giving protection to the loyal citizens, and succeeded in driving out of that country the force of rebels who were occupying it and recruiting for the rebel armies. On the 10th of December the regiment was ordered to Parkersburg, Va. Stonewall Jackson was at this time approaching the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. A principal part of the regiment was sent to New Creek, Va., and in the month of February, 1862, accompanied Col. Dunning, 5th Ohio Volunteers, commanding Brigade, on his expedition to Moorefield against Colonel Harness, of the rebel army, who occupied that place. The weather was extremely severe, and the troops suffered considerably. On the 2d of April the regiment broke camp at New Creek, and marched under command of General Schenck, then commanding the Brigade, to McDowell, in Highland County, Va., joining the command of Gen. Milroy on the night of the 7th of May, and fought the advance of Jackson's army on the 8th.

On the 25th of May, 1862, General Fremont having taken command of the corps, they were ordered to the Shenandoah Valley, and participated in General Fremont's movements against Jackson, the pursuit up the valley, and in the battle on the 8th of June at Cross Keys. Left the Shenandoah Valley July 10th, Gen. Sigel commanding the corps, in the "Army of Virginia," commanded by General Pope; participated in the movements of General Pope against Jackson, and subsequently in the battles of Cedar Mountain, August 10th; Rappahannock Station, August 21st; Freeman's Ford, August 22d; Sulphur Springs, August 23d and 24th; Waterloo Bridge, August 25th and 26th, and in the second battle at Bull Run on the 29th and 30th of August.

The regiment returned to Western Virginia in October, 1862, and remained in the Kanawha Valley, doing hard duty in scouting the country and guarding different posts, until May, 1864, when it participated in General Crook's expedition to the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, and his advance to Staunton, where a junction was formed with General Hunter's army; participated in his expedition against Lynchburg and the battle at that place, on the 18th of June, 1864. Returning, proceeded with General Hunter's army to the Shenandoah Valley, forming a part of the Army of West Virginia under General Crook, in the brigade commanded by Col. I. H. Duval, of the 9th W. Va. Infantry, and afterwards in his division, being engaged with conspicuous gallantry in the following battles in the Shenandoah Valley, viz: Kearnstown, July 24th; Halltown, August 21st, 23d and 25th; Berryville, September 4th; Winchester, September 19th; Fisher's Hill, September 22d, and at Cedar Creek, October 19th. The regiment has been engaged in more than two hundred skirmishes, independent of the battles before mentioned, and no regiment, perhaps, has served with greater credit than this.

On the 9th day of November, 1864, this regiment and the 9th W. Va. Infantry were consolidated, by order of the War Department, and designated the First Regiment West Virginia Veteran Infantry. These two regiments having served together for a long time, the consolidation was entirely agreeable to each, making as good a regiment of volunteers as there is in the United States service.

SIXTH REGIMENT W. VA. INFANTRY.

Return of Capt. John Fishers's Company "A," of the Sixth Regiment West Virginia Infantry Volunteers, stationed at Piedmont, W. Va., on the 20th day of December, 1864, together with a complete record of the changes that have taken place since its organization.

(Signed) JOHN FISHER, Capt. Commanding Company.

MEMORANDA:—The 6th Regiment W. Va. Infantry, was organized by authority of the War Department, and under instructions from the Governor of Virginia and General Rosecrans, commanding the department, in August, 1861, and was mustered into service of the United States for the special purpose of guarding the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in the State, and for the protection of the loyal citizens along the line of the road. It was recruited to fifteen companies, by special authority.

The companies were stationed along the line of railroad above indicated, and the effects were seen in the improvement of business and a feeling of security among the Union citizens, doing good and effective service in scouting the counties, and keeping them cleared of guerrillas, &c.

In 1862 the companies were moved about considerably, doing arduous field and guard duty, being stationed on the outposts of the Department, frequently being engaged in skirmishes with guerrillas. On the 31st of August, 1862, companies "A" and "G," stationed at Weston, were attacked by a force of the enemy under General Jenkins, but were compelled to retire, having six men wounded. On the 13th of October, 1863, parts of two companies of the Regiment, and a part of the 11th W. Va. Infantry, numbering in all 7 officers and 117 men, under command of Capt. Mattingly, of company "G," of the 6th, were attacked at Bulltown, W. Va., about 4 o'clock, A. M., by a rebel force under Col. Wm. L. Jackson, consisting of about 700 infantry, 75 cavalry, and one piece of artillery. The rebels attempted to take the works in which the force was posted, by a charge, but were successfully repulsed; and after fighting for several hours, retreated, with a loss on their side of 24 killed and 60 wounded, the only casualty in the 6th being Captain Mattingly seriously wounded in the thigh. On the 4th of August, 1864, New Creek, W. Va., was attacked by the enemy 3,000 strong, under command of General McCausland; companies "A," "G" and "L," forming a part of the forces stationed there, and in the engagement behaved with conspicuous gallantry, losing two men killed and four wounded.

On the 28th of November, 1864, New Creek was surprised, and a large portion of the force there captured; a detachment of company "L," of this Regiment was stationed there at the time, numbering one commissioned officer and 56 enlisted men, who were all captured. On the same day, nearly 300 of this force, under Major McDonald, attacked Piedmont, W. Va., where Capt. Fisher, of company "A," was stationed with 35 of his men, but by the gallant resistance of Capt. Fisher, the town was saved and the rebels compelled to retreat, with a loss of two killed, and ten or fifteen wounded. For this gallant resistance, Capt. Fisher and the men under his command, were highly complimented by special orders from Gen. Crook, commanding the Department.

On the 31st of July, 1864, the Regiment numbered a total of 48 commissioned officers and 1,326 enlisted men. Since that time, the non-veterans of different companies have been mustered out, but the companies were again rapidly filled up with recruits, so that it now numbers a total of 41 commissioned officers and 1,262 enlisted men. Application has been made to have companies "I" and "K," and

"L" and "M," consolidated into two companies, these companies having been reduced below the minimum.

MEMORANDA:—The 7th Regiment W. Va. Infantry Vols., was organized at Wheeling and Grafton, Va., during the months of July, August, September and October, 1861. From Grafton the Regiment was ordered on an expedition to St. George, in Tucker County, capturing at that place 14 prisoners, 150 horses and cattle, 70 stand of small arms, and 15,000 rounds of ammunition. Oct. 24, 1861, moved to New Creek, thence by forced march to Romney, Va., participating in the engagement at that place, losing one man killed; remained at Romney, doing heavy picket duty, until the 2d of January, 1862, when it was ordered to North Branch Bridge, Md.;

thence on the 5th of February, to Bloomery, Va., participating in the battle of Bloomery, on the 13th; returning to Paw Paw Tunnel, on the B. & O. Railroad; remained until the 5th of March, when the different companies were stationed on the railroad as guards, from Big Cacapon Bridge, to Martinsburg, Va.; on the 2nd of April, was relieved from railroad duty, and marched to Winchester, Va., doing provost duty there under Maj. Lockwood, Provost Marshal, until the 22d; thence marched to Strasburg, Va.; thence on the 30th, to Harrisonburg, Va.; thence back to New Market, and on the 12th of May, crossed the mountain to Luray, Va.; thence to Front Royal; thence across the Blue Ridge to Fredericksburg, Va., arriving on the 23d; returning to Front Royal on the 30th. These marches were very severe, and not being well supplied with shoes, the men suffered a great deal. Left Front Royal again on the 30th of June, and marched to Bristoe Station, on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad; thence by rail to Alexandria; thence by steamer to Harrison's Landing, disembarking on the 2d of July, and assisted in covering the retreat of McClellan from Malvern Hills; July 4th was engaged in a sharp skirmish with a portion of Stonewall Jackson's forces, losing one man killed and five wounded. Leaving Harrison's Landing, it marched to Newport News, Va.; thence by steamer to Alexandria, Va., arriving on the 25th of August; thence on the 29th, to Centerville, Va., covering the retreat of Pope's army to Chain Bridge. About the 1st of September, left Washington, D. C., and marched through Frederick City, Boonsboro', Middletown, &c., arriving at Antietam on the 17th, where it was at once formed in the first line of battle, and was actively and meritoriously engaged in that bloody battle, losing 30 killed and 129 wounded; among the killed were Capt. Shell, of Company "I," Lieutenants Swartz, of Company "C," and Shriver, of "K;" and among the wounded two Captains and three Lieutenants. Col. Snider, commanding, and Lt. Col. Lockwood, had their horses killed under them. The flag, with its gallant bearers, fell to the ground three times, but was again as often raised and carried victoriously through the battle perforated by twenty bullets, and the spear of the staff shot away. The gallantry of this regiment in this engagement, was not surpassed by any which participated in it. From Antietam the regiment marched via Sharpsburg, Md., to Harper's Ferry, Va.; thence to Leesburg, Va., and return. Oct. 30th, left Harper's Ferry, and marching via Leesburg, arrived at Falmouth, Va., on the 17th of November; here it did picket duty on the Rappahannock river, until December 12th, when it crossed the river at Fredericksburg, Va., and on the morning of the ——, the Brigade, composed of this Regiment, 4th and 8th Ohio, and 14th Indiana, formed the first line of battle, leading the whole Corps into the hard fought battle of Fredericksburg, in which the Regiment lost 4 killed, 32 wounded and 3 missing; Col. Snider, commanding, was wounded here whilst the Regiment was going into action, and Capt. Watson and Lieut. Prichard, while in the action. On the evening of the 15th, re-crossed the river and occupied the old camp at Falmouth, remaining until the 28th of April, when it left, crossing the Rappahannock at United States Ford, pushed on to Chancellorsville, participating in the engagement at that place on the 3d of May, having 3 men killed, 18 wounded, and a number missing; among the killed was Capt. Roberts, a brave and gallant officer. On the 15th re-crossed the river, returning again to Falmouth, where the Regiment remained until the 14th of June; thence it marched via Stafford C. H., Dumfries, Gainesville, Gum Springs, &c., to the bloody field of Gettysburg, arriving on the field in the evening of the 1st day of July; was actively engaged in the battle on the 2d and 3d, occupying a position near Cemetery Hill; here the regiment charged and drove the 7th Va. rebel Infantry, wounding and capturing its Colonel, and Lieutenant Lockwood, nephew of Lieut. Col. Lockwood, of this Regiment. The Regiment lost in the two days fighting, 9 killed, 36 wounded and 1 missing, Lt. Col. Lockwood being severely bruised by a shell.

From Gettysburg, the Regiment marched with the army to Elk Run, in Faquier County, where it remained until the 12th of September. The Regiment having been greatly reduced, on the 5th of September, by order, it was consolidated into four Companies, the Col. and Major, with the other supernumerary commissioned and non-commissioned officers, being mustered out. October 12, participated in the engagement at Bristoe Station; thence, marching almost continuously until the 27th, came in contact with the enemy at Locust Grove, on the road leading from Fredericksburg to Orange C. H. Here the Regiment, then about 250 strong, was advanced as skirmishers, about 10 o'clock, A. M.; at 1 o'clock, P. M., pushed forward and dislodged from their cover the 60th Ga., 400 strong, and a detachment of the 6th North Carolina, when a hand to hand struggle ensued, resulting in the complete rout of the enemy, killing and wounding a large number, and taking 13 prisoners, with a loss to the Regiment of 2 killed and 27 wounded, besides most of the men bore evidence of the hand to hand struggle in which they had been engaged; on the 28th pushed forward to Mine Run, skirmishing all day with the enemy; on December 1st, returned to camp near Culpepper, C. H.; Feb. 7th, 1864, was actively engaged in the battle of Morton's Ford, losing 28 men killed and wounded; Lt. Col. Lockwood, commanding, was also severely wounded.

Immediately after the battle, the Regiment started for West Virginia, on veteran furlough, arriving at Wheeling on the 13th. In March it again returned to the Army of the Potomac, participating in the great campaign against Richmond, being actively and meritoriously engaged in the following battles: Wilderness, May 5th and 6th; Po River, May 7th; Ny River, May 8th; Spottsylvania, May 12th; here the Regiment lost heavily, and the Lt. Col, (Lockwood,) was seriously wounded in the head, whilst gallantly leading his men over the second line of the enemy's breastworks; again at Spottsylvania, May 18th; Fredericksburg road, May 19; North Anna, May 23d and 24th; Tolopatony, May 31st and June 1st; Cold Harbor, from June 3d to 10th, fighting and skirmishing every day, losing heavily in killed and wounded; Petersburg, June 16th, 17th, 18th and 22d; Deep Bottom, July 26th, 27th and 28th; Petersburg mine, July 30th; again at Deep Bottom, Aug. 12th to 18th, fighting every day; Ream's Station, Aug. 25th. Here the 7th W. Va. Infantry was ordered to re-take a position which had been lost, which it did in gallant style, and as a compliment to their gallantry, were ordered to be furnished with "Henry's Sixteen Shooting Rifle;" at Boydon's Plank Road, and Hatcher's Run, October 27th, 1864.

During the time this Regiment has been in the Army of the Potomac, it has served in Carroll's Brigade of Hancock's (2d) Army Corps, the history of which is too well known to need comment. Scarcely a Regiment in the service has done or suffered more than the 7th West Va. Vet. Infantry.

MEMORANDA:—The 9th Regiment W. Va. Infantry Vols. was commenced in September, 1861, by the Hon. K. V. Whaley; one company was organized and stationed at Guyandotte, Va., where it was attacked on the 10th of November by the command of the rebel Jenkins, and all were killed, wounded or captured, except three or four, after a gallant resistance of about one hour; the rebel force being 1000 strong. About this time several other companies were being organized in the counties of Wood, Jackson, Mason and Roane under the direction of Lieut. Col. W. C. Starr; the whole being completed about the 28th of February, 1862, at Guyandotte, Va.

This Regiment represents about 24 counties in West Virginia and a part of four counties on the border in Ohio. Left Guyandotte the last of February under command of Col. Skinner, and reported to Col. Lightburn of the 4th Virginia (now Brig. Gen.,) then commanding the District of Kanawha; two companies were stationed at Sommerville, Nicholas county, under Lt. Col. W. C. Starr, and on the 25th of July the Lt. Col., and the principal portion of the command was captured. The balance of the Regiment remained in the Kanawha Valley until the retreat of Col. Lightburn's forces, in September. During its stay in the Kanawha Valley, the Regiment did good service in scouting through the different counties in that portion of the State. Sept. 6th Col. Skinner resigned and I. H. Duval, (now Brig. Gen'l,) was commissioned by Governor Pierpoint to fill the vacancy. The regiment was then attached to the command of Gen'l Milroy, and in October moved with it to Beverly, Va.; thence in the latter part of November to New Creek, W. Va., and marched from this point on the 6th of December under command of Brig. Gen'l Cluseret, via Petersburg, Moorefield, Lost River, Wardensville and Strasburg to Winchester, Virginia, arriving on the 24th day of December, 1862, being joined here by the remainder of Milroy's command on the 1st of January, 1863; On the 8th of May was ordered to the Kanawha Valley again, proceeding by Rail Road to Clarksburg, W. Va.; thence marched via Weston, through the counties of Lewis, Calhoun, Gilmer, Roane, Kanawha and Fayette to Fayetteville, W. Va., where it remained until May 2d, 1864. From this point, marched with Gen'l Crook's command to the Virginia and Tennessee Rail Road, striking the Road at Dublin Depot, May 9th, meeting a strong rebel force under command of Gen'l Jenkins at Cloyd Mountain, four miles from the Rail Road, and after a desperate battle defeated him, marched and took possession of the Rail Road at Dublin Depot same evening. This Regiment in this battle carried the rebel breast works with bayonets, killing and wounding about 600 rebels and capturing over 200 prisoners and two pieces of artillery, losing 189 men, 45 of whom were killed instantly. The color bearer, guard and Col. Duval, eleven in all, mounted the works a short distance in advance of the line, every one of whom were killed or wounded except Col. Duval. Twenty-one men were killed under and around the colors of the Regiment, nine of this Regiment, and twelve rebels, the enemy having made a desperate effort to capture them.

In this battle the rebel Gen'l Jenkins received his death wounds, and that too, by the same men he had captured and so cruelly treated at Guyandotte, Va.; on the next day marched to, and engaged the enemy at New River Bridge, routing him and destroying the bridge, marching thence through the counties of Fayette, Raleigh, Giles and Montgomery and back to Meadow Bluffs in Greenbrier county. After resting here a few days marched for the Covington and Ohio Rail Road, striking the same at Millboro in Bath county, thence to Staunton, joining the command of Gen'l Hunter, and marched with him via Lexington to Lynchburg, Va., participating in the engagement at that place, returning to the Kanawha Valley, and thence to Martinsburg, W. Va., arriving about the 15th of July; on the 19th marched in the direction of Winchester with the second Brigade of the army of W. Va., composed of this Regiment, 14th W. Va. Infantry, 34th and 91st Ohio Regiments, commanded by Col. Duval of the 9th; on the 20th, four miles north of Winchester, on what is known as Carter's farm, this Brigade met the rebel Maj. Gen'l Ramsaur with his Division, engaged him, and after perhaps one of the most desperate battles ever fought, defeated, completely routed and drove him through Winchester, capturing 200 prisoners and four twenty-four pounder cannon, (he leaving also 217 killed and wounded on the field,) a number of horses and 800 stand of arms. The enemy numbered 5,600 Infantry, 8 pieces of Artillery and 1,600 Cavalry, in all nearly 8,000 men, and there, in double line of battle, upon chosen ground, whilst Duval's Brigade numbered less than 1400, with no artillery, the loss in the Brigade was 217 men. This battle has scarcely an equal on record.

On the 21st was joined by the rest of the Army of West Virginia under General Crook, and on the 23d were attacked by a portion of Gen'l Early's army, which was repulsed, but was the next day renewed by Gen'l Early with his whole army, his strength being at least three times the command of Gen'l Crook, he was compelled to fall back to Martinsburg; thence to Harper's Ferry and through a part of Maryland after McCausland, returning joined General Sheridan's army at Harper's Ferry and marched with him to Strasburg and back to Halltown, where on the 22d, 23d and 26th of August captured the enemy's picket line each day, killing and wounding a great many, and taking in all over 200 prisoners; on the 3d of September, at Berryville, Va., met and defeated General Kershaw's Division of Longstreet's Corps, capturing 75 prisoners; on the 19th marched with the command to Opequan, on the 22d to Fisher's Hill, from thence to Harrisonburg and back to Cedar Creek, and was in that engagement on the 19th of October.

The following is a list of the general engagements in which the Regiment has participated:

Cloyd Mountain, May 9, 1864; Lexington; New River Bridge, May 10, 1864; Lynchburg, June 17, 1864; Carter's Farm, July 19, 1864; Winchester, July 23 and 24, 1864; Martinsburg, July 25, 1864; Halltown, Aug. 22, 23 and 26, 1864; Berryville, Sept. 3; Opequan and Winchester, Sept. 19, 1864; Fisher's Hill, Sept. 22; Cedar Creek, Oct. 19, 1864.

It is worthy of notice, that this Regiment has taken, at the point of the bayonet, 4 batteries, over 800 prisoners, and has killed and wounded more than its own number, and has had six sets of color bearers and color guards killed or wounded.

This Regiment is entitled to much credit, as a large majority of them are refugees from the border Counties of West Virginia, many of whom have sacrificed all they possessed, their houses having been burnt, and their families robbed and driven away. Notwithstanding this, these men, by their patriotism and love of country, have shown themselves worthy the cause for which they have sacrificed so much. Three hundred and fifty-seven have re-enlisted, and with the veterans of the 5th W. Va. Infantry, have been consolidated, and are now the 1st West Va. Veteran Infantry, and, if an opportunity offers, will make for themselves a history of which they and their State may well be proud. During the three years in which the regiment has been in the service, it has lost over five hundred men.

For his conspicuous gallantry and ability as an officer, Col. Duval, of this Regiment, was appointed Brig. General of Volunteers; and it may not be out of place to add to this history of his old Regiment, a short sketch of his military life, which began in Texas, in 1842, where he served for nearly four years, fighting the Indians. In 1846 he was authorized by Ex-Governor Butler, of South Carolina —who had been sent to Texas by President Polk, to collect and treat with the Indians of that country—to raise a company of men for the protection of an expedition into the interior. In October, 1846, he was sent by the Commissioner with three Indians, to visit the tribes in the prairies and mountains bordering on Texas, for the purpose of inducing them to come in, that a treaty might be made between them and the Government. On this expedition he was absent seven months, without seeing a white man, visiting over thirty tribes of Indians, and bringing in over 8,000, representing twenty-three different tribes, with whom satisfactory treaties were arranged, and his company then disbanded. He then raised another company, and proceeded with it into Mexico, but the war being about ended, went with it into the State of Chihuahua, and fought the Indians there, under contract with the Governor of that State. Returning to Texas in the Spring of 1849, organized another company to go as a pioneer company for an expedition into California; crossing Rio Grande River, at El Passo, thence to Gila River, across the Great American Desert into Lower California, being frequently engaged with the Indians, and losing several of his men. In 1851, returned to his home in Brooke county, Virginia, and when this rebellion broke out, was among the first to offer his services to his country; was elected Major of the 1st Va., three months Volunteers, under command of Col. (now Brevet Maj. General) Kelley, and upon the re-organization of that Regiment for three years' service, continued as Major under command of Col. Joseph Thoburn. Whilst in this Regiment, he participated in the battle at Winchester, under Gen. Shields, in March, 1862, and at Port Republic, June 8th, at which place he was severely wounded in the foot; was through the whole of Gen. Pope's campaign in Eastern Virginia, commencing with the battle of Slaughter Mountain, and ending with the two days' fighting at the second battle of Bull Run; serving in all the battles with distinguished ability and bravery. Sept. 6th, 1862, he was commissioned by Gov. Pierpoint, Col. of this Regiment, (the 9th W. Va. Inf.,) and has been engaged in all the battles in which it has participated since, as enumerated in the foregoing memoranda, except Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek, having been severely wounded in the left thigh at the battle of Winchester, Sept. 19th, 1864. General Duval is now commanding the 1st Division of the Army of West Virginia, the idol of his command.

MEMORANDA:—From the time that recruiting for this Regiment commenced, in the latter months of 1861, the men, as soon as enlisted, were assigned to duty on the frontier of the Department of Western Virginia, then commanded by Gen. Rosecrans. These men, many of them driven from their homes by the guerrillas of Gilmer, Braxton, Webster and Pocahontas Counties, were especially adapted to the frontier defense, by their knowledge of the country, and of the habits of the rebel marauders by whom it was infested, and were stimulated to extraordinary exertions by wrongs already suffered and homes to defend.

In March, 1862, organization was commenced by the muster of four companies into the United States service, with Thomas M. Harris, (now Brig. General,) as Lieut. Col. commanding, and the line to be guarded by this Regiment, one company of Cavalry, and a section of Artillery, was extended from Glenville to Elkwater.

Under this arrangement the border was protected for seven months, many guerrilla bands being effectually dispersed or driven out of West Virginia, whilst others were, almost to a man, exterminated. Indeed, so successful was this small command in the defense of that large territory, as to elicit frequent expressions of commendation and thanks from the Major General commanding, and also, to secure the confidence and gratitude of the loyal people of those Counties, for the skillful management, zeal and courage displayed. In the meantime, organization of the Regiment was completed, Lieut. Col. Harris promoted to the Colonelcy, and in the month of September, 1862, headquarters were removed from Buckhannon to Bulltown, where, for the first time, as many as seven companies were concentrated.

While here, the command was, as heretofore, successful in breaking up the marauders of that section. In the latter part of October, 1862, the Regiment was attached to the command of Gen. Milroy, under whom it took up the line of march (Nov. 4th,) for Beverly, where all detachments were collected, and the command moved via Webster and New Creek to Winchester, Va., reaching the latter place on the first day of January, 1863.

While in the Division of Gen. Milroy, at Winchester, the Regiment took part in several expeditions up the Valley of the Shenandoah. No casualties were sustained in any of these expeditions, but, unfortunately, exposure to the changing weather of a most inclement winter on the march from Bulltown to Winchester, and afterward, resulted in disease from which the command did not recover until the ensuing summer. The deaths from disease (chiefly fever,) from Dec. 1st, 1862, to June 1863, numbered forty-three.

On the tenth of May, 1863, the Regiment was ordered back to West Virginia, and soon after its arrival at Webster station, was attached to the Brigade of Gen. Wm. W. Averell, by whom it was sent to Buckhannon, and thence on the 7th of June to Beverly. On the 2nd of July following, while stationed at Beverly, an attack was made upon the place by the enemy under Col. Wm. L. Jackson. This was the first time that the Regiment in a body had met the enemy, who were here held at bay for two days, notwithstanding their great numerical superiority, until the arrival of re-inforcements compelled them to retreat, beaten.

The Regiment was engaged in the battle of Droop Mountain, on the 6th of November, 1863, and was highly complimented by Gen. Averell, commanding, for gallantry displayed in that action, and afterward formed a part of a number of those expeditions or "raids," which have reflected so much credit upon the command of that distinguished officer.

With headquarters at Beverly, the Regiment remained in West Virginia until about the 15th of June, 1864, when it was removed to Martinsburg. On the 3rd of July, the advance of the enemy under Early was encountered, and for some time successfully resisted, at Lectown, Va., by a small body of troops, of which the Tenth W. Va. was a part. On the 6th and 7th of the same month, it was engaged in a series of skirmishes at Maryland Heights, and for some days afterward was on the march with the troops then retreating before Early, who was pressing his invasion into Maryland, with the capture of the National Capital an avowed object. Engaged at Snicker's Ferry, Va., on the 17th, and on the 24th of July, at Winchester, Va. In the latter engagement, the Regiment was in the command of the lamented Col. Mulligan, who fell on that day, and the losses sustained prove how gallantly the Regiment held its portion of the line until the commanding General ordered a retreat; in the immediate front of the Regiment, the enemy in very heavy force, were more than once repulsed with terrible slaughter. In a small engagement at Berryville, Va., Sept. 3rd, 1864, and in the battle of "The Opequan," it suffered a heavy loss in killed and wounded, and was complimented on the field by Gen. Sheridan. At "Fisher's Hill," on the 22nd of September, the battle flag of the Tenth W. Va. was one of the first on the enemy's works, which were carried by assault by the Army of West Va

On the 13th of October, 1864, the Regiment was engaged at Strasburg, Va., and on the 19th of that month, in the great battle of "Cedar Creek"—in a word, the history of this Regiment during the months of September, October and November, 1864, is co-incident with that of Sheridan's Army in the victorious campaign of the Shenandoah Valley. The Regiment, with the rest of the First Infantry Division, Army of West Va., was ordered, December 19th, 1864, to Washington City, where it embarked for the Army of the James, arriving on the 25th of that month, and is now encamped on Chapin's Farm, about seven miles from the rebel capital.

Report of Battles in which the Tenth W. Va. Vols. has been engaged, and casualties in each.

MEMORANDA:—The Eleventh Regiment West Virginia Infantry Volunteers was commenced by Lieut. Col. J. C. Rathbone, in October, 1861. On the 22d and 24th of December, respectively, companies B and C were organized in Wirt county, and were immediately armed and placed on duty against the guerrillas in Wirt, Calhoun and Roane counties. About the same time the recruiting of the other companies was progressing rather slowly, so that the regiment did not attain the maximum until September, 1862. The services performed by the companies already organized, and those in process of organization during this time, was of a very arduous character, and from the obscurity of the district in which they operated, and the scattered condition the command was obliged to maintain, due credit has never been given for the service performed. Besides, the small detachments were constantly liable to defeat and capture, by any considerable force of the enemy that should invade. This occurred September 2d, 1862, when about two hundred, stationed at Spencer, Va., under command of Col. Rathbone, were captured by the rebel Gen. Jenkins' forces, numbering about one thousand men. Lieut. Col. D. Frost, who had resigned his seat as Speaker of the Virginia House of Delegates, in May, 1862, to accept this position, assumed command of the remaining portion of the regiment, during the time Col. Rathbone was upon parole, and upon the dismissal of that officer, was made Colonel, in February, 1863.

The companies of the regiment were performing the service named above, being stationed in the counties of Braxton, Lewis, Gilmer, Wirt, Ritchie, Roane and Jackson, with one company in the Great Kanawha valley. On the 13th of October, 1863, a part of the regiment participated in the gallant repulse of Wm. L. Jackson, (alias Mudwall,) at Bulltown, W. Va. Various engagements of this kind occurred with different detachments.

The regiment was concentrated and marched from Clarksburg to Beverly, W. Va., April 4th, 1864. Returning, companies B, C, D. G, I and K joined the command of Brig. Gen. Crook at Camp Piatt, April 25th, 1864.

At Fayette C. H., on May 2d, the three brigades of the division were united. The command then marched on the celebrated "Dublin raid." Arriving at Cloyd Mountain, four miles from the railroad, the enemy were found strongly posted. The brigade to which the Eleventh was attached, (the 3d,) was assigned to the attack in front, which was handsomely carried, carrying the enemy's guns and many prisoners. Here the rebel Gen. Jenkins, who had once captured a portion of our command, received his mortal wound. The enemy again made a stand at New River Bridge, when the Eleventh supported the battery immediately in front of the rebel works. But little other infantry was engaged. Company B of this regiment, being deployed as skirmishers, with Company B of the 15th West Virginia Infantry, have the honor of setting fire to the great bridge, so important to the rebels, and by them so persistently and desperately defended. Returning through the counties of Montgomery, Monroe, Giles and Greenbriar, the command rested a few days at Meadow Bluff, Greenbriar county, when they moved to Staunton, Va., destroying the Virginia Central Railroad from Millboro depot to that place. Here it met the Division of Gen. Sullivan, and commenced the celebrated expedition to Lynchburg, Va., under Gen. Hunter, participating in all the engagements of that memorable expedition.

Returning again by Lewisburg and Charleston to the Shenandoah Valley. In an engagement at Snicker's Ferry, Va., the brave, efficient Col. Frost was killed. On the 23d and 24th of July, was with the Army of West Virginia in the engagements near Winchester, Va., which resulted in the retreat of our small command to Maryland. At Harper's Ferry, joined Gen. Sheridan's Army of the Shenandoah, and participated in several light engagements, reconnoissances, &c. On the 3d of September, was in the engagement at Berryville, Va. On the 19th of September, the great battle of the Opequan was fought, in which it participated. Marched thence, pursuing the enemy to Fisher's Hill, when on the 22d of September, the Army of West Virginia so signally routed General Early by one of Gen. Crooks' favorite flank movements. Marched thence to Harrisonburg, where the four companies left behind in April, joined the regiment. Thence back to Cedar Creek, when near Strasburg, quite a spirited engagement was fought in a reconnoissance by the 1st Division. This regiment was specially complimented by the lamented Col. Thoburn, commanding the Division, for good conduct in that engagement. Meantime, the four companies left at Parkersburg in April, were sent to New Creek and Cumberland, and won much credit for their gallantry in defense of those places in August. On the 20th of December, 1864, the 1st division, Brevet Brig. Gen. Harris, commanding, was moved to the Army of the James, where they now are.

The following comprises a list of battles in which this command has participated, besides numerous skirmishes, reconnoissances, &c.: Cloyd Mountain, Va., May 9th, 1864; New River Bridge, May 10th, 1864; Lexington, Va.; Lynchburg, Va., June 17th and 18th; Snicker's Ferry, Va., July 18th; Winchester, Va., July 23d and 24th; Martinsburg, Va., July 25th; Berryville, Va., Sept. 3d; Opequan Creek, Va., Sept. 19th; Fisher's Hill, Va., Sept. 22d; Strasburg, Va., Oct. 13th; Cedar Creek, Va., Oct. 19th.

MEMORANDA :—The 12th Regiment West Va. Infantry, Vols., was organized at Camp Willey, Wheeling, W. Va., on the 30th day of August, 1862, by F. P. Peirpoint, then Adjutant of the Regiment, having been recruited during the month in the counties of Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall, Marion, Taylor and Harrison; on the day following its organization, it was ordered to Clarksburg, Va., which place was then threatened by a force under the rebel General Jenkins, who was then on a raid into Western Virginia. September 2d a detachment of four companies was ordered to Beverly under command of Lt. Col. Northcott, and on the 4th of September the remaining six companies, under command of Col. Klunk, were ordered to Buckhannon, Va. The detachment under command of Lt. Col. Northcott, marched from Beverly to Webster, thence to Clarksburg, and on the 1st day of October, rejoined the Regiment at Buckhannon, and from thence a detachment of six companies, under command of the Colonel, marched to Beverly, on the 19th of October, 1862, and was joined by the remaining four companies on the 1st of November; on the 6th of November seven companies of the regiment, under command of Col. Klunk, accompanied an expedition under command of General Milroy into Pocahontas, Pendleton and Highland counties, arriving at Monterey, Va., on the 9th. Here they were joined by the other three companies under command of Major Peirpoint, who left Beverly on the morning of the 5th of November, on an expedition by way of Elk Water and Huntersville; from Monterey, Va., the Regiment returned to Beverly, and from thence to New Creek, arriving there on the 19th of November, 1862; from New Creek it marched to Moorefield via Petersburg, W. Va., where it was assigned to Gen. Cluseret's Brigade of Milroy's Division. On the 17th of December Gen. Cluseret began an expedition to Strasburg, Va., (the 12th forming a part of his command,) at which place a rebel force under Gen. Jones was stationed, but retired upon the advance of Gen. Cluseret's command, leaving only his rear guard, with which there was a slight skirmish; from Strasburg the command proceeded to Winchester, Va., arriving on the 23d of December, where the Regiment remained until the 26th day of March, 1863, when it was ordered to Berryville, Va., and from thence on the 10th of May to Clarksburg, W. Va., here the Regiment remained until the 2d of June, when it was again ordered to Winchester, Va. It participated in the engagement at that place on the 13th, 14th and 15th of June, when the command of Gen. Milroy was attacked by the army of Gen. Lee, then on his raid into Maryland and Pennsylvania. In this engagement the Regiment lost heavily in killed, wounded and prisoners. Among the killed were Lieutenants T. W. Bradley and John T. Ben Gough, and captured Lieut. Col. Northcott, Ass't Surgeon F. H. Patton and Lt. Henry T. Anshutz, the latter of whom yet remains a prisoner in the hands of the rebels. After the defeat at Winchester the Regiment made its way to Hancock, Md., thence to Bloody Run, Pa., where Gen. Milroy's command had been concentrated.

During the months of August, September and October the Regiment was at Martinsburg, Va., moving to Maryland Heights in November. On the 10th of December, 1863, this Regiment formed a part of a Brigade commanded by Col. Wells, (34th Mass.,) which went on an expedition up the Shenandoah Valley as far as Harrisonburg, Va., returning to Maryland Heights on the 24th Dec. 1863.

During the months of January, February and March, 1864, the Regiment was stationed at Cumberland, Md.; in April it was ordered to Beverly where it remained a few days, thence it was ordered again to Martinsburg, arriving there on the 22d of April; on the 29th proceeded up the Shenandoah Valley in the army commanded by Gen. Sigel, and participated in the battle of New Market on the 15th of May. On the 26th of May the Regiment formed a part of the army in the Shenandoah Valley, under command of Gen. Hunter and was in the Lynchburg campaign. On the 5th of June occurred the battle of Piedmont, Va., in which this Regiment, commanded by Col. Wm. B. Curtis, behaved with great gallantry, being the first to enter the rebel works, and capturing a large number of prisoners; on the 17th the army arrived before Lynchburg, Va., and on the day following participated in the engagement at that place. The enemy being in superior force and strongly fortified, the army began its retreat, via Salem, New Castle, Sweet Springs, Meadow Bluffs, Gauley Bridge and Charleston, arriving at Parkersburg on the 5th of July; from thence the Regiment was again ordered to Martinsburg.

During the months of July and August it participated in the campaign of Gen. Crook against Early, in the Shenandoah Valley, and was engaged in the battle of Snicker's Ferry, July 18th and at Winchester on the 24th, and at Cedar Creek August 12th. In September, October and November it formed a part of the army of West Virginia, in General Sheridan's army and was in the engagement at Berryville, Va., September 3d. February 10th, Companies A, B, D and H, were ordered to Hurricane Bridge, and on the 28th of March were attacked by a rebel force under Gen. Jenkins, numbering about 1000, and the surrender of this detachment demanded, which was refused by Capt. J. W. Johnson, commanding; a battle ensued which lasted above five hours, when the rebels withdrew, leaving four men wounded. In this engagement the detachment lost four men killed and three wounded. The conduct of Captain Johnson, and his little command, was truly gallant.

After abandoning the attack at Hurricane Bridge, the enemy proceeded to Point Pleasant, where another portion of the 13th was stationed, attacked that place, but finding that he could not take it, retreated on the 30th, sustaining a loss of 70 men including six offiers; the loss to the Regiment was two killed and three wounded, among the latter Lt. N. N. Hawkins, severely in the shoulder.

The Regiment remained in the Kanawha Valley, making hard marches, and being engaged frequetly in skirmishes with the enemy, until July 17th, when the Regiment was ordered to Gallipolis, Ohio, in pursuit of the rebel General John Morgan, then on his raid through Ohio: from Gallipolis, was ordered to Pomeroy, and about two miles from that place had a severe skirmish with the enemy; thence to Buffington Island, where, on the 19th of July, a general engagement took place, resulting in the defeat of Morgan and the capture of about 800 prisoners; in this engagement this Regiment was actively engaged; thence pursued him to the Big Hocking River, returning to Point Pleasant July 21st; thence Aug. 1st, 1863, to Charleston, remaining in the Kanawha Valley until the 22nd of May, 1864. In the latter part of 1863, Company K was organized, and on the 22nd day of February, 1864, Company G was mustered into service, having been recruited to supply the place of Company G, which was claimed by the 11th W. Va. Infantry, and was, by an order of the War Department, permanently assigned to that Regiment. About the same time, Company I, was completed and mustered in, thus completing the organization of the Regiment.

On the 27th day of May, 1864, the Regiment arrived at Meadow Bluffs, Va., and was assigned to the 1st Brigade, 2nd Division of General Crook's command, and proceeded with it to Staunton, Va., joining the forces under General Hunter, on the 8th of July, and moved with his command in his expedition against Lynchburg, being frequently engaged in skirmishing with the enemy, with slight loss to the Regiment; arriving at Lynchburg on the evening of the 17th, participated in the engagement on the 18th; thence in the retreat to the Kanawha River, arriving at Camp Piatt on the 29th of June, 1864; thence with General Hunter's army via Parkersburg and Grafton, to Martinsburg, W. Va., arriving on the 16th of July; thence via Charlestown, Berryville and Winchester, to Kernstown, skirmishing with the enemy at each of said places, taking an active part in the battles of Kernstown and Winchester, July 24th, losing 12 killed, 51 wounded, and 26 missing; among the wounded, the Lieut. Col., J. R. Hall, severely, Capt. Simon Williams, and 1st Lieuts. James W. Hanna and Joseph E. McCoy. From Winchester, covered the retreat to Martinsburg, being engaged at that place on the 25th; thence to Harper's Ferry; thence through a portion of Maryland after the rebel General McCausland, returning to Harper's Ferry on the 8th of August; thence proceeded up the Valley with the army of West Virginia, under General Crooks, in the army of the Shenandoah, under General Sheridan. Returning to Charlestown, Aug. 21, was actively engaged skirmishing all day, losing two men killed and one wounded; thence to Halltown, participating in the engagement at that place Aug. 26, losing one man killed and nine wounded; thence to Berryville, being actively engaged in the battle on the 3d of Sept., losing 15 men wounded.

Was very actively and meritoriously engaged in the battles of the Opequan and Winchester, September 19th, being in several of the gallant charges made by the Division commanded by Colonel (now Brig. Gen.) Duval, losing 3 killed and 22 wounded; among the killed was Capt. Greenberry Slack, of Company A, and 1st Lieut. Lovell C. Rayburn, of Company B, both brave and gallant officers; among the wounded was Capt. (now Lt. Col.) Milton Stewart, of Company B; following the retreating army up the Valley, participated in the battle of Fisher's Hill, on the 22nd, having one killed and eleven wounded. Was engaged in the great battle of Cedar Creek, on the 19th of October, losing 9 men killed and 33 wounded; among the killed was the Lieut. Col., James R. Hall, while gallantly leading his men. Col. Hall had just returned to the Regiment, not yet entirely recovered from his wound received on the 24th of July, at Winchester.

MEMORANDA:—The Fourteenth Regiment West Virginia Infantry Volunteers was organized at Camp Willey, Wheeling, W. V., during the months of August and September, 1862, the organization dating from the 16th of September, that being the date of muster-in of the last company. On the 15th, nine companies, under command of Lt. Col. C. J. Stewart, were ordered to Clarksburg, W. Va., where they were joined on the 18th by the other company, and Col. Andrew S. Core. On the 15th of November, moved to New Creek, W. Va., and was assigned to the 5th Brigade, 1st Division, 8th Army Corps. On the 25th of April, 1863, a detachment of 34 men of Co. A, commanded by Capt. Jacob Smith, and one company of the 23d Illinois infantry, were attacked at Greenland Gap by a largely superior force, under the rebel Gen. Jones, and after a gallant and heroic resistance of five hours, in which terrible slaughter was inflicted upon the enemy, they were compelled to surrender. On the 6th of July the regiment moved to Hancock, Md., and participated in the movements and skirmishes resulting from the endeavors to intercept Lee's retreating army returning from the invasion of Maryland and Pennsylvania. During the month of August and a greater part of September, was stationed at Mechanic's Gap, near Romney, where it suffered some losses from the attacks of guerrillas, whilst guarding trains from New Creek. Lieut. George W. Hardman, of company C, and two men of his company were killed, and several wounded in one of these attacks.

It accompanied the expedition to McDowell, in December, 1863, the object of which was to make a diversion in favor of Gen. Averill, in his great raid to Salem, Va., returning to Petersburg, W. V., on the 24th.

The abandonment of Petersburg by our forces brought the regiment back to New Creek, about the 1st of April, 1864. Early in April it moved to the Kanawha Valley and joined the expedition of General Crook to the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, and was actively and meritoriously engaged in the battle at Cloyd Mountain on the 9th of May, 1864, being the first general engagement in which the regiment had participated. In this engagement it lost thirteen killed and sixty-two (62) wounded, among the latter were six officers—one mortally, the principal portion of wounded being left on the field, ten of whom afterwards died from wounds received in that action. From Cloyd Mountain the enemy was pursued to Dublin Depot and New River Bridge, where a stand was made, and another engagement took place. May 12th encountered the force under Gen. W. L. Jackson in Montgomery County, when a brisk skirmish ensued, this regiment losing two men wounded; returned to Meadow Bluffs, Va., on the 19th May; thence on the 31st moved with Gen. Crooks' force, forming a junction with Gen. Hunter at Staunton, Va., on the 8th of June, and moved with his command on his expedition against Lynchburg, Va., participating in the engagement at that place on the 18th, returning to Camp Piatt on the Kanawha River on the 29th, having lost in killed, wounded and missing about 150 men, with about an equal number unfit for duty, caused by the severe marches, and limited supply of provisions.

On the 10th of July the regiment arrived at Parkersburg and proceeded thence with Gen. Hunter's army to the Shenandoah Valley. In the engagement on the 20th with the enemy under Gen, Ramseur, near Winchester, known as the battle of Carter's Farm. The 9th and 14th W. V. Infty and the 34th and 91st Ohio, numbering 1350 men, constituted the Brigade led by Col. (now Gen.) I. H. Duval, of the 9th W. Va. Infty, made one of the most gallant charges of the war; the enemy numbering 5600, (being more than four times greater than Col. Duval's force,) was completely routed, capturing four pieces of his artillery, 250 prisoners and 1000 stand of small arms—and this without the aid of artillery. Duval's Brigade lost 217 in killed and wounded; this regiment lost 60 in killed and wounded—among the killed were the brave and gallant Capt. Mathers of Company D, and. Lt. Jno. W. Buck of Co. E.

On the 23d of July Col. Johnson of this regiment was assigned to the command of the 2d Brigade, 2d Infantry Division of the Army of West Virginia, Col. Duval commanding Division. The regiment participated in the whole of Gen. Sheridan's campaign in the Shenandoah Valley, being actively engaged in the battles of Kearnestown and Winchester July 24th and Martinsburg July 25th, losing in the two days about 60 in killed, wounded and missing; Halltown, Va., Aug. 24th and 26th, losing 30 in killed and wounded; Opequan and Winchester Sept. 19th, in which two men were killed and 21 wounded, at this battle Col. Johnson and Lt. Col.

McTaggart were both wounded. Fisher's Hill, Sept. 22d, one officer and two men killed, and 17 wounded; Cedar Creek Oct. 13, 3 men killed and 8 wounded; Cedar Creek Oct. 19, 1 killed and 25 wounded--besides a great many skirmishes not mentioned.

About the middle of December the regiment was ordered to Martinsburg for duty along the B. & O. R. R.

FIFTEENTH REGIMENT W. VA. INFANTRY.

MEMORANDA:—The Second Regiment West Va. Vol. Cavalry was recruited during the summer of 1861, and was mustered into service with ten full companies on the 8th day of November, 1861. During the fall and winter the regiment was engaged in fighting the guerrillas in the border counties of this State, and in the Kanawha Valley. On the 6th day of January, 1862, the regiment joined Col. Garfield's forces at Paint Creek, Kentucky, and participated in an engagement with the enemy at that place under command of Gen. Humphrey Marshall, losing 2 killed and 5 wounded. This was the first engagement in which the regiment had participated, and it fought nobly. After this engagement the regiment returned to Guyandotte, Cabell County, where it remained until the 8th day of April, when a Battalion consisting of companies A, D, E, G, and K, under command of Lt. Col. John C. Paxton, were ordered to join the forces under Gen. Cox at Flat-top Mountain. Here the battalion was engaged in scouting for the command of Gen. Cox, being meritoriusly engaged in the battle at Princeton, Va., on the 1st day of May, also at Giles C. H. May 10th. On the 28th of April the remaining companies of the regiment under command of Col. Wm. M. Bolles, broke camp at Guyandotte, marching via Camp Piatt on the Kanawha river, joined the forces under Col. Elliott, of the 47th Ohio Infantry, on the 11th of May at Meadow Bluff, Va., and were engaged in the expedition under his command against the enemy stationed at Lewisburg, where a small engagement took place resulting in the defeat of the rebels. On the 16th Col. George Crook of the 36th O. V. I., commenced an expedition to destroy the Virginia and Tennessee Rail Road; in this expedition the 2nd Cavalry had the advance and succeeded in destroying several depots and bridges on that road; and on the 23d of May the regiment was actively engaged in the battle of Lewisburg, in which Col. Crook defeated the rebel Gen. Heath, capturing four guns and 127 prisoners; killing seventy-two and wounding more than 100 of the enemy. In this engagement the regiment was complimented for its gallantry by Col. Crook.

During the summer and fall of 1862, the regiment was engaged in scouting in the counties of Raleigh, Wyoming, Fayette and Greenbrier, and the Kanawha valley, that portion of the State being at that time occupied alternately by the Union and rebel forces. The regiment and detachments of it, being engaged frequently in very spirited engagements with the enemy. On the 24th of November, 1862, the regiment, under command of Col. J. C. Paxton, left Camp Piatt and marched in the direction of Lewisburg, W. Va., which was then occupied by the rebel Gen. Jenkins; and on the 26th of November, at Sinking Creek, about twelve miles from Lewisburg, came upon the enemy, completely surprising him, and after a short engagement captured 117 prisoners, 110 horses and 250 stand of arms. The object of the expedition having been successfully accomplished, the regiment returned to Camp Piatt, after a march of seventy consecutive hours. The weather being exceedingly cold, many of the men had their feet badly frozen, and the fatigue and suffering of the command was terrible. The regiment did active duty during the whole of the winter, and had frequent engagements with the enemy.

During the year 1863, the regiment was stationed in the Kanawha valley and in the mountains of southwestern Virginia, being engaged in many severe skirmishes and battles, among which were the battles of Wytheville on the 18th of July, (in which the gallant Col. Powell was severely wounded and taken prisoner,) and at Lewisburg, November 7th and December 12th, 1863.

On the 1st of May, 1864, the Regiment was attached to the 3rd Brigade of Gen. Averill's Division, commanded by Col. Powell, of the 2nd Cavalry, and commenced the celebrated campaign to the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad, via Princeton and Wytheville; near Wytheville they found the rebel Gen. John Morgan in command, well fortified, when an engagement ensued lasting four hours. In this engagement Gen. Averill complimented the Regiment in General Orders, as follows: "The General commanding desires to express his high appreciation of the steady and skillful evolutions of the 2nd Regiment W. Va. Cavalry, under Col. Powell, upon the field of battle. It was a dress parade that continued without disorder, under a heavy fire, for over four hours." Returning to Bunger's Mills, Va., the regiment again advanced with General Averill's Division, and joined the forces under Gen. Hunter, in his celebrated raid to Lynchburg, being engaged at Cove Mountain Gap, Va., May 10th, 1864, and at Lynchburg, Va., June 17th; from Lynchburg the regiment moved with the command of Gen. Hunter to the Kanawha Valley, arriving at Charleston, on the 23d day of June, where the regiment remained until the 8th of July, when it was ordered to Martinsburg, W. Va., where it joined the command of Gen. Averill; participated in the battle of Winchester, Va., on the 19th of July; was also meritoriously engaged in the battle at Moorefield, W. Va., Aug. 7th, 1864, which resulted in the complete rout of the rebels, being one of the most brilliant successes of the war; was with Gen. Sheridan's Army during the whole of his campaign in the Shenandoah Valley, taking active part in the engagements at Bunker Hill, Va., Sept. 2d and 3d; Stephenson's Depot, Sept. 7th; Opequan, Sept. 19th; Fisher's Hill, Sept. 22d; Mount Jackson, Sept. 23d; Brown's Gap, Sept. 26th, and Weir's Cave, Sept. 27th, 1864.

During the campaign in the Shenandoah Valley, the gallant Col. Powell, of the Second Cavalry, was promoted to the rank of Brigadier General, for conspicuous gallantry and ability as an officer. No regiment in the service from any State, has performed more arduous duty than the Second Regiment West Virginia Cavalry, and none have better deserved the compliments and praise it has received.

MEMORANDA:—As the Companies composing this Regiment were not serving together until the early summer of 1864, it will be impossible to give any history of the Regiment, as such, previous to that time. Yet the record of its achievements is none the less full and gratifying, as, owing to the same cause, it has been represented on almost every battle field of West Virginia and of the Valley, and on not a few beyond these limits.

Any detailed account, therefore, of the contests in which its men have participated, is impossible in these limits, and nothing more will be attempted than a mention of the battles in which its companies and battalions have fought, in the order of their occurrence, up to the completion of the regimental organization, and then to sketch the story of the Third Cavalry through Sheridan's eventful campaign in the Valley of Virginia.

Company "A" was mustered at Wheeling, December 23, 1861, and on May 10, 1862, proceeded by rail to New Creek. It served as escort of Maj. Gen. Fremont, then in command of the Mountain Department, during his pursuit of Jackson up the Shenandoah Valley, and after he was relieved, with Gen. Sigel. Fought at Strasburg, Mt. Jackson and Cross Keys; at Sperryville was organized with Company "C," into a battalion.

Company "C" was organized at Brandonville, W. Va., October 1, 1861; marched to Clarksburg, where it remained until January 15, 1862, when it proceeded to New Creek; served under Gen. Fremont, and fought at Strasburg and Port Republic; thence proceeded to Sperryville.

Pursuant to Special Orders, No. 28, Department of Western Virginia, dated Feb. 4, 1862, and issued in accordance with Special Orders, No. 17, from the Headquarters of the Army, Companies "A" and "C" were constituted a battalion, of which Major McGee assumed command. After taking part in the battles of Cedar Mountain and second Bull Run, the battalion marched to Washington, and was ordered thence to Fairfax C. H., where it was attached to Headquarters Grand Reserve Division, Army of the Potomac. Until April 13, 1863, was employed in scouting the counties of Fairfax, Fauquier, Stafford and Prince William, and engaged with the enemy at Gainesville, Aldie, Catlett's Station, and Dumfries. At that date, it was attached to the Third Cavalry Division, under Gen. Stoneman, and served in its 2nd brigade. Passed through engagements at Beverly Ford, (two,) Kelley's Ford and Rapidan River, to the battle of Chancellorsville, May 4, 1863. For the next six weeks were picketing along the Rappahannock, with occasional skirmishes. After fights at Middleburg and Upperville, marched through Maryland to Gettysburg, and were engaged on the first and second days of its famous battle. Thence marched back to Harper's Ferry, on its way fighting at Williamsport, Boonsboro' and Falling Waters. After its return to Virginia, was employed in scouting and making reconnoisances in the counties of Fauquier, Culpeper, Madison and Orange, and fighting at Brandy Station, Culpeper, Raccoon Ford, Locust Grove, Morton's Ford, Stevensburg, Brandy Station, Brentsville, Oak Grove and Mine Run.

In December, 1863, the battalion was ordered to report to Gen. Kelley, then in command of the Department of West Virginia, and went to Wheeling on Recruiting service. After the companies were filled up, went by boat to Charleston, W. Va., and there being joined by companies "B" and "D," the organization of the Regiment commenced under Major Seymour B. Conger.

Companies "B" and "D" were mustered at Wheeling, October 21, 1862, whence they proceeded to New Creek. Were engaged in scouting through the mountains near Petersburg, and in less than four weeks after their arrival, had captured their number of the enemy, without loss. Aided in repelling the enemy from Moorefield on January 3, 1863. Were next engaged at Winchester, where Maj. McGee, at the head of 40 men of companies "B" and "D" of the 3d, and "K" of the 1st Cavalry, attacked 150 rebels under Major Myers, advantageously posted on Fisher's Hill, and dispersed them with a severe loss in killed, wounded and prisoners. Were also engaged at Piedmont on the Manassas railroad, and under Milroy at the battle of Winchester, the captain and forty-three men of company "B," there being captured. After the reorganization of that company, the two proceeded to Charleston.

From Charleston the four companies marched through the counties of Boone, Logan, Wyoming, Mercer and Monroe to Lewisburg, fighting at Abb's Valley, Cove Gap and Rocky Gap. At Lewisburg companies E, H, I and M joined.

Co. "E," before uniting with the Regiment, had been in active service in Pocahontas, Webster, Braxton and Lewis counties, West Virginia, capturing in its many skirmishes more than its number of the enemy.

Co. "H" was, immediately after its muster-in at Parkersburg on Nov. 26, 1862, placed under command of Colonel Frost, of the 11th West Virginia, and employed in scouting the counties of Wood, Wirt, Jackson, Calhoun, Braxton, Gilmer, Webster and Clay. During the summer of 1863, were with General Averill and fought at Rocky Gap.

Company "I" was mustered into the service at Bridgeport, W. V. on May 16, 1863, and scouted the counties of Braxton and Lewis. Was also with General Averill through the campaign of 1863.

Co. "M," immediately after its muster at Buckhannon, April 4, 1864, joined the Regiment at Lewisburg.

From Lewisburg the regiment went, under Averill, on the raid to Salem and Wytheville, braving alike the inclemency of the season, the severity of the march, and the resistance of the foe. Returning to Lewisburg, marched to Staunton, and thence, under Gen. Hunter, started on the Lynchburg raid, fighting at Lynchburg and at Salem. On its return to Charleston was joined by companies G and K.

Company "G" was organized at Pt. Pleasant and was, during its early history, attached successively to the 13th and 5th West Va., and 23d Ohio. While posted at Hurricane Bridge was joined by company "K." The squadron thus formed was employed scouting the counties of Wayne, Logan, Boone and Wyoming, capturing during its period of service there, 500 prisoners.

From Charleston the Third marched to Parkersburg, and thence were transported to Martinsburg. Here it began its summer campaign under Sheridan, through all of which it followed him, participating in all its battles and skirmishes, and detracting nothing from the reputation which has been won in our army by the cavalry of West Virginia, nor from the respect in which they have taught the enemy to hold them. The history of the Regiment is written on every page that records the conflicts and victories of the Middle Military Division. Its story cannot be more eloquently told than in the simple list of battles it has fought, and nothing more will be here attempted. Among the names on its banner are: Carter's Farm, Newtown, Winchester, Bunker Hill, Martinsburg, Hagerstown, Hancock, Moorefield, Martinsburg (second), Bunker Hill (second), Buckletown, Bunker Hill (third), Stevenson Depot, Winchester (second), Fisher's Hill, Mt. Jackson, Brown's Gap (two fights), Milford (two fights), Front Royal and Mt. Jackson (second).

At Moorefield the gallant Major Conger fell, while leading his men against the enemy. In command of the regiment from its organization at Charleston to the date of his death, his cool and steadfast courage on many a hard fought field, and his sterling qualities as a man and a soldier, had won the regard of all who knew him. He met a death he did not fear to die, in a cause he was worthy to maintain.

At this date (December 12th, 1864), the Third is at Camp Russell, four miles from Winchester, busily engaged in erecting winter quarters.

MEMORANDA:—The Second Va. Vol. Infantry was organized as a Regiment, in July, 1861, Col. John W. Moss, commanding. The Companies, however, composing the Regiment, were mustered into the U. S. service at different times, from May 21st to July 21st, 1861, and were hurried into the field separately, as mustered and equipped; Companies A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, thus serving in the three months campaign in West Va. About the 1st of August, the Companies were concentrated at Beverly, W. Va., and the Regiment organized. Shortly thereafter, Company B, (Capt. Geo. R. Latham,) was detached and sent to Bealington, Barbour County, where it remained until about the middle of January, 1862, for the purpose of protecting the line of transportation from Webster to Beverly. While here, this Company was actively engaged in scouting operations against the rebels infesting the Counties of Barbour, Tucker, Randolph and Pendleton, having many sharp conflicts with them, and always successful.

Shortly after this Company left Beverly for Bealington, the balance of the Regiment was ordered to Elkwater, by Brig. Gen. J. J. Reynolds, who was then threatened by Lee, with a largely superior force. They arrived just in time to strike terror, by their vociferous cheers, into the rebels, who were getting around Reynolds' flanks, and caused them to beat a hasty retreat, being badly deceived as to their numbers. They were here engaged in some skirmishing, and in December made a successful expedition to Huntersville, Pocahontas County, but there was no general engagement until December 13th, when Gen. Milroy, who had a few days before succeeded to the command of the troops in the vicinity of Cheat Mountain, made his unsuccessful attack on the rebel camp on Allegheny Mountain. This Regiment bore a conspicuous part in this action, and was shortly after ordered from Elkwater, to occupy the works on Cheat Mountain, where it remained comparatively inactive in view of the defiant rebel camp on Allegheny, until about the 1st of April, 1862, when Johnson, the rebel commander, fell back toward Staunton, and Milroy advanced to Monterey, Highland County, Va. The 2nd Va. Infantry was the first to advance; Capt. Latham, with sixty men of Co's B and K, occupying Monterey on the 2nd, and the balance of the regiment arriving on the 4th of April. Milroy brought up other portions of his command in a day or two, and on the 8th Johnson returned and attacked him, but was repulsed. On the 8th day of May, 1862, the battle of Bull Pasture Mountain, or McDowell, was fought, Jackson commanding the rebels, and largely outnumbering the federals, which were commanded in the action by Milroy, though Schenck was present, but waived his seniority, having arrived only a few hours before the battle. The rebels were here badly chastised, but during the night, which closed the engagement, the Union forces were drawn off, the 2nd bringing up the rear, toward Franklin, Pendleton County, at which place they arrived, followed at a respectful distance by the enemy, on the 10th.

Fremont here concentrated the forces of the Mountain Department, and on the 23d of May started to the relief of Banks, in the Shenandoah Valley. On the 20th, however, Col. Moss and Lieut. Col. Moran resigned, and Capt. Latham was, on the same day, appointed Colonel. There was much skirmishing in the campaign, and the Regiment was engaged at Cross Keys and Port Republic, June 8th and 9th. Fremont's army now retired to Strasburg, and nothing more of consequence occurred until Pope succeeded to the command of the Army of Virginia, and Sigel to the command of the 11th Corps, with which Milroy's Brigade was incorporated. Early in July the army was transferred to the East side of the Blue Ridge Mountain, where shortly after commenced the memorable campaign beginning with the battle of Cedar Mountain, on the — day of August, and ending with the retreat upon the defences at Washington, Sept. 1862. During this campaign, the 2nd had the advance of the 11th Corps, was first when advancing, and brought up the rear when retreating, and was engaged in all the battles of the campaign. About the 1st of October, Milroy's Brigade was ordered from Arlington Heights to the Kanawha Valley, W. Va., and shortly after its arrival at Point Pleasant, was ordered again into the vicinity of Beverly. From this point this Regiment was engaged with other forces under Col. Latham, then commanding Brigade, (Milroy commanding Division,) in a successful expedition into Highland County, Va.; in the month of November, returned to Beverly, and quartered for the winter. In December of this year, this Regiment was separated from Milroy's command, he being ordered to Winchester and attached to the 8th Army Corps, while the Regiment was left in the Department of West Va.

Nothing of importance now transpired until April 23, 1863, when the garrison at Beverly was attacked by Imboden, and after stubborn resistance for several hours, against overwhelming numbers, was ordered by Gen. Roberts, then in command, to Buckhannon, which place was reached without disaster on the 26th. The Regiment participated in all the campaigns of that officer. This Regiment, at West Union, Doddridge County, West Va., repulsed a large rebel cavalry force sent against that place. On the 23d day of May, 1863, one month after the evacuation of Beverly, the 2nd returned and again occupied the place.

In June, Gen. Roberts was superceded by Gen. Averill, a cavalry officer, when the 2nd, with other West Va. Infantry Regiments, was mounted, and in August undertook the expedition which resulted in his repulse at Rocky Gap, Greenbriar County, West Va., on the 26th and 27th. In October he conducted the more successful expedition, commonly known as the Droop Mountain raid, and in December the great Salem raid. In all these expeditions this Regiment played a conspicuous part, at Droop Mountain it was complimented on the field by the Commanding General.

January 26, 1864, the Regiment was changed to 5th West Va. Cavalry, by order of the Secretary of War. It was quartered during the winter after the Salem raid, at Martinsburg, W. Va., and in April, 1864, moved to Charleston, Kanawha County, whence on the 1st of May it started on the expedition with Gen. Crook, which resulted in the victory at Cloyd Mountain and the destruction of the Tennessee Rail Road, and was subsequently engaged in the Hunter raid to Lynchburg, from which it returned about July 4th, 1864. The term of the original members of the Regiment, who had not re-enlisted, had now expired, and they were mustered out, leaving about two hundred men dismounted, disorganized and almost entirely without arms, who were left in this condition until September, when the Companies were re-organized, and in November were consolidated with the remnant of the 6th W. Va. Cavalry, taking the designation of the latter. These were at New Creek, W. Va., on the 28th day of November, almost entirely unarmed, when that place was attacked and taken by the rebel Gen. Rosser.

This Regiment and the one with which it is now consolidated have always borne the highest character for gallantry and efficiency. Neither of these Regiments were ever armed and equipped as Cavalry, but acted as mounted Infantry. It is proper to state further that Co. G, (Capt. Ewing,) was on May 18, 1863, transferred, by order of the Secretary of War, to the 1st W. Va. Light Artillery, and another Company was recruited in its place in the spring of 1864.

MEMORANDA:—The Third Regiment West Virginia Infantry Volunteers was organized at Clarksburg, Va., in July, 1861, by Col. David T. Hewes, and at once began operations in Western Virginia, having companies stationed at different points in the State, engaged in scouting and fighting guerrillas until March, 1862, when it was concentrated at Elkwater, Va., under Brig. Gen. Milroy: Left camp at Elkwater April 7, 1862, and marched to McDowell, Va., participating in the battle at that place on the 8th of May, thence it marched to Franklin, Va. Here Gen. Fremont concentrated his forces, and moved with his command to the relief of Gen. Banks in the Shenandoah Valley. This Regiment moved with Fremont up the Valley in pursuit of the enemy, and was actively engaged in the battle of Cross Keys, June 8th, 1862. Returned to Strasburg, Va., about the 20th, where the command remained until about the 5th of July, when Gen. Pope assumed command of the army and commenced his memorable campaign in Eastern Virginia. The 3d Va. Infantry now formed a part of Milroy's Independent Brigade, in Sigel's Corps. Participated in the whole of Pope's campaign, and was engaged with his command in the following battles: Cedar Mountain, August 10th; Kelley's

Ford, 21st and 22d August; Lee's Springs, August 23d; Waterloo Bridge, August 25th, and at Bull Run, August 29th and 30th. During this campaign Milroy's Brigade, (of which this Regiment was a part,) was first in an advance, and nearly always covered the retreat. On the 29th of September Milroy's Brigade was ordered from Arlington Heights, Va., to the Kanawha Valley, Va., arriving at Point Pleasant on the 12th of October, where it remained until the 15th; thence it moved to Clarksburg and Buckhannon. At Buckhannon the Regiment was divided into detachments and stationed at different points in the country to guard the lines of communication between Clarksburg and the Kanawha Valley. Companies B and F were stationed at Buckhannon, C, D, G, and E, at Bulltown, A, H, and K, at Sutton. Company I having accompanied Gen. Milroy to Beverly as Provost Guard for his command. The Regiment was again concentrated at Clarksburg on the 28th of April, 1863, by order of Gen. Roberts, during the raid of the rebel Gen. Jones into West Virginia. In the month of June the organization was changed to mounted Infantry and received horses and equipments, and after drilling a short time, were assigned to Gen. Averill's command.

On the 2nd of July, this command moved to Beverly to the support of Col. Harris, commanding 10th W. Va. Infantry, who was threatened by a superior force of the enemy under command of Wm. L. Jackson; returned to Fetterman, W. Va., on the 9th of July. Was with the expedition of Gen. Averill, and participated in the engagement at Rocky Gap, Va., on the 26th and 27th of August, 1863, losing considerably in officers and men; thence returned to Beverly, where it remained until the 1st of November. November 1st, Gen. Averill started with this command on another expedition against the enemy, and encountered him at Droop Mountain, on the 6th, when a severe engagement took place; this Regiment was engaged in the centre of the line, and assaulted the enemy in his works, on the crest of the Mountain, driving him and capturing a number of prisoners; driving the enemy to Lewisburg, returned via White Sulphur Springs and Franklin, W. Va., arriving at Petersburg, Hardy County, W. Va., on the 13th of November; thence to New Creek, W. Va., arriving on the 18th, On the 8th of December, Gen. Averill commenced his expedition to Salem, Va; in this raid the 3rd W. Va. Mounted Infantry bore a conspicuous part.

January 26, 1864, the Regiment was changed to the 6th Regiment W. Va. Cavalry, by order of the Secretary of War, and after the return from the Salem raid, was stationed during the winter at Martinsburg, W. Va. About the 1st of April, 1864, a new company was recruited and attached to the Regiment, under command of J. S. Hyde.

During the month of April, the dismounted men of the Regiment were sent to Beverly, W. Va., where they remained until the 19th of August, the non-veterans of the Regiment having been mustered out during the month; the Regiment was again concentrated at North Branch Bridge, W. Va., and consolidated into six companies. In November, this Battalion was consolidated with the 5th Regiment W. Va. Cavalry, without losing its name, the consolidated Regiment being designated the "6th W. Va. Cavalry;" was stationed at New Creek, W. Va., at the time of the capture of that place by the rebel Gen. Rosser, almost entirely unarmed and unequipped.

The Regiment has never been properly armed and equipped as Cavalry, and for this reason have not been as actively engaged during the last year as formerly.

MEMORANDA:—The Seventh Regiment West Virginia Cavalry was organized as the Eighth Infantry Regiment, in the Kanawha Valley, during the fall of 1861, even while the rebel Gen. Wise had possession of that part of the State, and whilst Gen. Rosecrans was making his campaigns in Western Virginia. The Head-quarters of the Regiment, during the time it was being recruited, was at Charleston. Great difficulties were encountered in recruiting it, for the country was in an unsettled state and large bodies of guerrillas infested most of the counties, so that recruiting officers had to go well armed and guarded.

During the winter of 1861 and 1862 the Regiment was stationed at Buffalo, on the Kanawha River.

General Fremont having been assigned to the command of the Mountain Department, the Regiment was ordered to New Creek, Va., in April, 1862, and joined the forces of Gen. Fremont, and proceeded to Petersburg, Hardy County, where the 60th Ohio Infantry and this Regiment were organized as an "advance Brigade," and placed under command of Col. Cluseret, A. D. C. to Gen. Fremont; from Petersburg it moved with the army to Franklin, Va., to the relief of Gens. Schenck and Milroy; while at Franklin this "advance Brigade" did all the scouting for the army; from Franklin the army proceeded to the Shenandoah Valley. In the pursuit of Jackson up the Valley, at Strasburg this Regiment had the advance, and were engaged in several skirmishes with Ashby's Cavalry, driving him at every point; followed Ashby up the Valley and was the principal body of troops engaged in the fight beyond Harrisonburg, Va., in which Ashby was killed, no doubt by sharp-shooters from this regiment.

The 8th Va. and 60th Ohio occupied the center at the battle of Cross Keys, June 8th, 1862, and were complimented in Special Orders by Gen. Fremont for gallantry on that battle field; moved with Gen. Sigel to Sperryville, Va., via Thornton's Gap, and while the enemy lay at Sperryville, the Regiment made a reconnoisance to Madison Court-house, driving the rebels out of that place, and were the first loyal Infantry Regiment that occupied it since the commencement of the war. It moved with Gen. Sigel to the relief of Gen. Banks at Cedar Mountain, and was engaged in all of Gen. Pope's campaign in Eastern Virginia, participating in all the general engagements, behaving with conspicous gallantry on several occasions, especially at Freeman's Ford, where the Brigade commander, Gen. Bohlen, was killed.

On arriving before Washington City, after Gen. Pope's retreat, the Regiment was transferred to Gen. Milroy's Brigade, and returned with him to Western Virginia in the fall of 1862, and were again placed in the Kanawha Valley, which was at this time threatened and occupied by Gen. Loring. On the 20th of Oct. 1862, it was transferred to the Brigade of Col. Seibert, and moved up the South side of the Kanawha River, driving the rebels before them as far as Gauley Bridge.

In November, 1862, the Regiment returned to Coalsmouth on the Kanawha River, and in January was transferred to Col. Moore's Brigade, and ordered to Buckhannon, W. Va., where the Regiment was cut up into detachments and posted at Bulltown, Frenchtown and Beverly; from Beverly five Companies made an expedition to Monterey, in Highland County.

On the 13th of June, the Regiment was ordered to Bridgeport, Va., to be mounted and drilled as Mounted Infantry. This was about the time of the advance of Lee into Maryland and Pennsylvania, and having received horses and equipments, were ordered to Grafton on the 19th; but Mudwall Jackson having attacked Beverly the 3d and 8th W. Va. Mounted Infantry were ordered there; returning by way of Grafton arrived at Cumberland, Md., July 10, 1863. From Cumberland, Gen. Averill's Brigade, of which this regiment was a part, joined the force under Gen. Kelley at Clear Spring; from thence the command moved to Williamsport, Md., arriving the day after Lee had crossed the Potomac in his retreat; thence moved back to Cherry Run, Va., and for a number of days were skirmishing with the left flank of Lee's army, following him to Winchester and Strasburg; participated in Gen. Averill's campaign to Franklin, Monterey, Huntersville, &c., engaging the forces under Col. Jackson at several points; was actively and meritoriously engaged at the battle of Rocky Gap, Va., Aug. 26th, 1863, losing heavily in officers and men.

During the months of September and October the Regiment was stationed at Beverly, W. Va.

Gen. Averill moved his Brigade, November 1st, over Cheat and Allegheny Mountains, and again drove the rebels from Huntersville. At Hillsboro a sharp skirmish ensued, where the 8th W. Va. Inf'y drove the enemy to the summit of Droop Mountain, and on the day following, November 6th, the battle of Droop Mountain was fought, in which this Regiment was meritoriously engaged. The enemy was driven to Lewisburg, when the Regiment returned to New Creek, W. Va., arriving on the 18th.

December 8th, left New Creek and was with Gen. Averill on his raid to Salem, this being one of the most severe marches the Regiment ever made, and being in midwinter, the suffering of the men was great; returned to Beverly, W. Va., arriving Dec. 25th, 1863, and thence it moved to Martinsburg, W. Va.

January 27, 1864, the Regiment was changed from the 8th W. Va. Mounted Infantry to the 7th W. Va. Cavalry, by order of the War Department. Nearly four hundred (400) of the Regiment having re-enlisted as Veterans, the Regiment went to the Kanawha Valley, in a body, on Veteran furlough, arriving at Charleston, March 15, 1864, re-assembling again on the 20th of April, having received an addition of about two hundred and fifty recruits, while on Veteran furlough.

The Regiment moved on the 1st of May with Gen. Crook's expedition to the Virginia and Tennessee Rail Road, (partly mounted and part as Infantry,) and participated in the battles of Cloyd Mountain and New River Bridge; June 1st, moved with Gen. Crook's command and joined Gen. Hunter at Staunton; participated in his movement against Lynchburg, and was engaged in the battle at that place; in the retreat was the advance guard, and it, with the 30th Ohio, on the 8th of June at Salem, Va., recaptured some artillery which the enemy had captured; arrived at Charleston, W. Va., July 1st, 1864, and were the only old troops left in the Kanawha Valley, when Gen. Hunter moved his forces to the Shenandoah Valley. The Regiment has remained in the Kanawha Valley ever since, occupying a line of about one hundred miles, with small detachments stationed at different points, many of which have been attacked during the fall, but without much loss to the Regiment. Three or four hundred recruits have been added to the Regiment since July. It is now receiving more horses and equipments and soon every man will be mounted and equipped. The Regiment now numbers over twelve hundred men, Companies L and M having been recruited during the summer and fall.
